ceived "strong evidence" that Chinese Communist army officers were directing the onslaught of the Indo-Chinese rebels. The French, who have abandoned one bastion after another during the successful month-long offensive of Ho Chi-minh's Communist rebels, today evacuated Muong Khuong, 19 miles North East of Laokay.

Laokay is France's Westernmost bastion near the Chinese border but it has been largely isolated by the recent Red gains to the East.

Information that Communist Chinese officers had crossed the border to advise the rebel troops came from intercepted battlefield messages, the sources said.

The Muong Khuong garrison retreated to Laokay which is 162 miles North West of the Northern capital of Hanol and the last important outpost in the sector commanding the Red River valley-Indo-China's chief rice bowl.

The evacuation was carried out on Monday, military headquarters in Saigon said, with civilians flown out by private airliners.

Red troops around Lackay were machine-gunhed by French millitary planes. Meanwhile other planes attacked the Reds near Caobang, frontier fort farther East which was abandoned by the French on October 3. Planes also of "certain troop movements and 'neursions" by Chinese Reds along the China Tibet border. But it had no direct word of a Chinese invasion of Tibet, where winter snow and ley mountain onsses already make travel by foot soldlers difficult, if not impossible.

The Peking broadcast, as heard n Tokyo, said the Red Army' 'liberation'' move was disclosed n a despatch from Chungking China, yesterday.

The despatch said: political : mobilisation directive to People's (Communiat) Army units, which have been ordered to advance into Tibet to free 3,000,000 Tibetan from imperialist oppression and to consolidate the national defennes of the Western border of China, has been issued jointly by ithé Bouth West -Chin/ bureau of the Communist Party of Ching, the South West Milltary Area and the Headquarters of the Second Field Army.

DECLARATION OF HUMAN WELFARE

Sir.-It is greatly appreclated that our protest lodged with both Peking and Talwon regimes against the arrest of members of our Chu Licu Society which we sent to you had been published on September 27. And now, a Declaration of Huproclaimed by the fourth Annual Conference of this Society which is drafted by Professor Lo Mengtze, one of our members. Enclosed is a copy-of this De-man Welfare was passed and

- Yours etc., CHU LIEU SOCIETY.

[DECLARATION OF HUMAN WELFABE] A Declaration of Human Welfare was passed and proclaimed by the Chu Lleu (Main Current) Society at its Annual Conference held at a place adjacent to the Chinese mainland on October 24, The Society is a Chines: popular liberal research organisation, somewhat similar to the English Fabian Society and yel differing from it in certain respects. It unanimously resolved to proclaim the Declaration drafted by Professor Lo Meng-tze, one of its members, as a peace project and a set of economic and political proposals to be submitted to the Chinese and other peoples of the world as a basis of discussion hoping thereby to explore new paths for the solution of the Chinese problém, the attainment of world peace, and the promotion of human progress.

It is the main thesis of the Declaration that man, living as he is in the middle decades of the twentieth century, not only should, but is also in a position to, proclaim a new and fourth Declaration and usher in a new era of human welfare with Hunian - Rights Economy, Wellurd Polity, and the Welfare State as its characteristic features and, at the same time, pronounce the passing of the old regime whose old-fashlened economy, polity, and State (whether of the right or of the left) were all based on ruthless exploitation and suppres-

The Declaration of Human Wel fare is indubitably animated by the same spirit and possesses the same significance as the American Declaration of Independence, the French Declaration of the Rights of Man and of the Citizen and the Communist Manifesto: has developed out of the other three, but its contents, form, and composition are quite different It is not a short political pamphlet er propaganda sheet, but a systematic academic monograph.

The whole document comprise: some 190,000 words and is divided into eight chapters as follows:

A New Proclamation Mistaken Views of the Age On the Threshold of a Demorratic Philosophy

Truth as Viewed in the Radicactive Age

Road to Freedom Human-Rights Economy Welfare Polity

8.-- The Welfare State and Free

Society. The work carefuly and boldly aces the new developments that iave ceme about in world histor n the last one hundred years. takes advantage of the revolulion that has been launched in the intellectual world and is about to be carried to completion, in order to everthrow the philosophical dictatorship imposed upon man by inordinately ambitious and dogmatic philosophers, both on-clent and inodern, and to herald

the approach of a new era of philosophical democracy. When we survey, from standpoint of philosophical. mocracy and in the atmosphere of a radioactive age, the vista opening before manking, it is only natural that we should fundamentally question, criticise. and deny the validity of those economic and political decirines and theories of State as well as their practical applications which, though old-fashioned and erroneous, constitute; nevertheless, potent menace to modern man: and that we should indicate a possible road to freedom—one endien from "Human"- Hights Economy, Welfare Polity, and the Wellare State to free society. The Declaration of Human Welfare is not promulgated as the pet theories or creed of a alven political organisation, but as the academic study of a libera research organization. The Chu Lieu Society, its sponsor, would welcome criticisms and the exchange of opinions. The Societ does not debur any individuals or i organisations of an unselfish an progressive character from workng for the further development and realisation of its ideals; nay, such individuals and organisal tions are most welcome. But is not expected that anyone w try to easily it and appropriate - He is expected, to be away it as his own scheme of social salvation.

London, October 25. The prospect of peace in Korea, which has come to the Western Powers much earlier than could have been expected, has brought them face to face with three major problems arising from their victory.

The first is a military problem occasioned by the recent serious deterioration of the position in Indo-China, probably due to a switch in Cominform interest from Korea to the South of the continent of Asia.

For the impression created in London by the phase of the Korean campaign which begen when the United Nations crossed the 38th Parollel is that the Soviet Government has, at any rate for the present, decided to write off Korea as a dead loss to that Communict cause.

The decision by the United Nations to send its troops into North Korea was regarded in diplomatic quarters here as risk that had to be taken in the inferests of restoring stability to Korea as'a whole.

But at the time when the United Nations troops moved across the dividing line the decision was regarded as a genuine risk.

The strongth of the reaction in Moscow and Peking was not known, and there had been hints that the Chinese Government could not stand idly by.

Correct judgment

Japan and Formosa

The matter can hardly be discussed in Isolation from the question of the future of Japan or, in view of General Mac Arthur's known opinions on the strategic position of Formosa in isolation from the question of the future of that island.

It is consequently not surprising that this autumn a fresh attemp to settle the Japanese pence treaty question should have been made by the United States Government through the United States delegation to the United Nutions General Assembly.

The contact established on the question with the Soviet Gevernment through Mr. John Foster Dulles of the American delegation and Mr. Jacob Malik of the Soviet delegation gave no sign of breaking the deadlock over the appropriate method of negotiating the treaty which has held up progress so far.

But there is evidence that the American views on Japanese security have at last crystallised and that these finally hardened at the meeting on Wake Island.

The tools, of which two styles are available, are a development of the well-known Wimet "Clamptip" tool range. tools are made for clamping vertically in the dovetail of the toolholder, which mounted in the square turret

The design of the tools allows for tangential presentation of tool to workpiece, which results in incrensed efficiency, economy carbide - consumption, easy rerervicing, and maintenance of form.

Two tool types

The tools have a thread form ground for the full depth, and various thread form sizes are interchangeable in the holder.

London, October 24. When Members of Parliament officially move into their new House of Commons on Tuesday, they will be going into only their fourth home in some 700 years.

The new Chamber, which has risen on the ruins of that destroyed by German bombs one night in May 1941, is in many ways almost a replica of the old one. The same Gothic style, the same dimensions, the traditional green leather upholstery and green carpets will receive Members as they file in for their first debates after the formal opening of the new House by the King.

Even the number of seats emains unchanged. There are still only 437 seats for 615 members, and on important occasions late-comers will still have to stand.

But the architect, Sir Giles Scott, has nevertheless introduced modern improvements. Acousties have been brought up to date by the installation of an almost invisible loudspeaker system, the old system of ventilation given place to modern air conditioning, and metal panels hidden under the carpet will keep Mem-

basis for world peace, Sir Gladwyn says

New York, October 24. The chief British delegate to the United Nations, Sir Gladwyn Jebb, told the "Herald Tribune" forum today that the United Nations provided the only possible basis on which to found a world community of the future.

However, he warned that, whatever its strength or weakness, "It is not now and cannot for a long time be a real world government and therefore cannot of itself preserve world peace."

"It can only assist various. governments, notably the great powers, to create a situation in which peace will be enduring."

He said there was no good thinking-that the United Nations by itself could prevent another great war because that depended upon co-operation among the great powers.

Reviewing the progress of the United Nations before Korea, Sir Gladwyn said that, despite Soviet unwillingness to co-operate, the organisation was not the organisation was not the organisation was not the better up, and "trading insults is better female

The custom is that the insignia of the Sovereign at the time of building are commemorated in stone and wood.

Heavy oak doors, the gifts of India and Pakistan to the "Mother of Parliaments," swing open to reveal the new rectangular Chamber, panelled and roofed throughout with exquisitely carved English oak. The timber came from 250-year-old trees grown in Shrawley Wood, in Shropshire, a beauty spot given by Henry VIII to his first wife, Catherine of Aragon.

Chiang's firm stand on Formosa

Taipeh, October 24. Generalissimo Chiang Kalshek, the Chinese Nationalist President, today took a firm stand on the status of Formosa. "The sovereignty of Formosa belongs to the Republic of China, rucially culturally and legally, he said in a broadcast to the Formosan people on the eve of the fifth anniversary of its libera-

"No matter how the international situation may change, and whether or not international justice can be upheld, we will strengthen our base of Formosa for a counter-offensive on the mainland," the President added, The counter-offensive would be waged "for the destruction of the traiterous regime under Mao Tse-tung and Chu Teh, and for driving out Soviet Russia."

The Generalissimo said that Chinn's declaration of war on in 1937 automatically abolished the 1895 Treaty of Shimonseki, by which Formosa and the Pescadores Islands, between Formosa and the mainland were ceded to Japan. China signed both the Cairo and Potsdam Declarations during the second World War, he added. Under the first it was agreed that Formosa and Pescadores should be returned to China. And the Potsdam Deciaration confirmed this.-Reuter.

Iran talks with USSR postponed

Tcheran, October 24. The opening of the Russo-Iranian talks on border disputes has been postponed for more than a fortnight, an authoritative source said here tonight.

The postponement is seen by experienced observers here as another proof that the recent Soviet - friendship propaganda campaign aimed at Iran has run into a snag.

Talks on the Russian offer of uS$20,000,000 trade-barter deal have been stalemated for the last three weeks.

The first meeting of the joint Soviet-Iranian Border Commission had been arranged for tomorrow. However, a Government source said today. That the meeting is postponed to November 11.

The source said that the Iranians asked for the postponement. Although they long have been seeking a settlement of the disputes at a dozen points on the Northern border, it is believed that Premier Razmara's Government is reluctant to proceed with frontier talks while the Russians are holding up talks on trading arrangements.—Associated Press.

Casualty list in Malaya campaign rising steadily

Kuala Lumpur, Octobor 24.

The casualty list is rising steadily in the war against Communist terrorists in the Federation of Malaya.

It is not a one-sided picture, either. The losses among British security forces are still running higher than those inflicted upon the Communist bands.

Total Communist casualties up to October 1 were 2,720. figure included killed, wounded and captured. Losses totalled 2,629 as of September 1.

The terrorists have killed or wounded 3,177 civilians, regular, special and auxiliary police. This includes 334 civilians listed as missing but presumed to have been killed. The figure up to September 1:was 2.982. All of the casualty statistics

BRUSHES TO MEET NEEDS

A phase of the export side of the British brush industry which is not brought Into prominence by the official statistics is the ever-increasing variety designs now being called for.

The 500,000 or so brushes which are _included _under_the heading "other sorts" comprise many types which have been developed to assist industry or to ease domestic work of one sort or another.

Domestic aids

number of clever machines have been introduced and won their way into favour because of the efficient way in which the brush portion fulfils its task.

At the same time it should be borne in mind that British manufacturers have been dilligent in catering for the special requirements of most overseas markets, especially in the matter of finish and decora-

There has been considerable advance recently in what, are termed industrial finishes, and another point which wholesale buyers might bear in mind is the greater attention: teing paid to packaging, with the object of ensuring that goods arrive at the counter in Arst-rate condition.

For industry

Recent inquiries from across the Atlantic include several for and where delivery may be brushes for pets, as well as those for cleaning automobiles, and saddlery.

Increased interest is being taken in the special motor-driven brushes for road cleaning. the Company's survivors These capable additions to muni- | Messes. . Geneva, October 24.

Genevol October 24 Rappasontations of the worlds leading timpreduce ing and timeansuming, nations, will meet here temerren, in an affert te work out an agree ment making the tin market and present ing, wifth price fluctuations,

All nations interested in tin, whether they are members of the United Nations or not, have been, invited to attend the meeting. These had registered tonight:

Britain, the British Colonies, Australia, Canada, Bolgium, Bolgian, Congo, Bolivia, Cuba, Denmark, Egypt, France, India, Indonesia, Italy, Netherlands, Switzerland, Thailand, South Africa, and the United States.

The conference will consider a, draft agreement prepared by the international Tin Study Group in Paris last March. This group, over the opposition of the United States, voted to ask the United Nations to call a world tin con-Terence.

Under the draft agreement, an international tin council would be established in which producing . countries and consumer countries would have the same voting powers. A majority vote of both consumer and producer, groups would be necessary to take action.

The Council would set up buffer stock of tin from members' contributions, to be used as a stabilising influence on the market. A manager of this stock would also be appointed to handl mendations.

Scale of prices

In addition to setting up this iwere not fully forescen," Mr. mechanism the present confor. Anderson declared, "the mechence may seek to evolve a scale anics of the agreement are sultof minimum and maximum tin able even under present circumprices.

-A-number-of-countries, including Britain, the Netherlands, Belglum and France, hre not only Important consumers, but, through their colonies, producers on considerable scale.

Another important question will be the date for activiting the agreement. Before the Koroan war caused large-scale stockpiling, particularly in the U.S., producer countries were pressing for early agreement, fearing that the' perennial tin-surplus wouldisorganise the market.

However, practically all sur pluses have now disappeared and la temporary shortage has sent tin prices soaring. ...

But it is expected that it will take months, maybe years, to put any agreement into effect, since after the conference the individual countries must ratify the pact.

Mr. W. G. Ferguson of the British Ministry of Supply, is the United Kingdom 'Government plelegate to the conference.

By "GRANDSTAND"

Results of last week's softball games did not materially affect the current league standings, as all the leaders remained undefeated while the tail-enders have yet to chalk up their first victory.

In the Senior League, teams tied for first place are Braves, Overseas and Pandas (Blues), Jaguars and South China (Golds), all holding unblemished records.

The same is true in the Blackhawks. Griffins (Blues), Dragons and Rexes (Golds) have not yet their march to faltered in Pennantville.

Brown kept interest in MCC game against West Australia alive

Perth, October 24. Though held to a draw by Western Australia in the opening first-class game of their Australian tour, the MCC can be reasonably satisfied with their performance.

fact that Freddie Brown declared soon after lunch at 121 runs for three wickets and set his opponents the task of scoring 320 runs to win in 175 minutes could not be taken as an indication that he held serious hopes of forcing a win.

The pitch had not deteriorated from the perfect batting surface it had been since the first of the four days.

Western Australia did so well on it, aguinst an attack weakened by the ansence of Alec Bedser, who is suffering from influenza, that dies scored 207 runs for four wickets and were only 112 runs behind at the finish.

Arsenal should easily account for Derby County

By "ALBION"

There was a spate of drawn games in the Fil Division last week, which is another indition of the close rivalry which exists in the section.

The leaders, though weakened during last Sat day's game, came through with flying colou and took a point from the Villa, to mainta their position at the head of the table.

This week they have Derby County as guests to Highbury and on form look one of the best Home bets of the day.

Derby are well below par this season—perhaps they have fel the absence of that brilliant in side forward. Steele, now.with Dundee. I forecast the "Gunners'

Newcastle's fine win at Bolton last week has put them even with Argenel on points and they should continue in winning strain where Blackpool visit St. James Parl on Saturday.

Sheffeld Wednesday went down very heavily against Derby and this will no doubt have a demoralising effect on their display when the might of Liverpool descends upon Hillsborough Saturday. A banker away to Liverpool, I would say.
